

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON
UNIVERSITY

WASHINGTON, DC

GRADUATE SCHOOL OF POLITICAL MANAGEMENT

Inside the Numbers Racket: The 2018 Midterm Election Campaigns on Twitter

A PEORIA Project Inquiry

Dr. Michael Cornfield

November 16, 2018

THE GEORGE
WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY

WASHINGTON, DC

GRADUATE SCHOOL OF POLITICAL MANAGEMENT

RESEARCH QUESTIONS

1. (Social Media Monitoring Metrics) Are There Reliable Predictive Indicators of Election Results to be discerned from Twitter?
2. (Usage Cases) What Twitter Strategies, Messages, and Techniques Worked and What Didn't?

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON
UNIVERSITY
WASHINGTON, DC

GRADUATE SCHOOL OF POLITICAL MANAGEMENT

METHODOLOGY

- Comparative Analysis of Engagement Traffic on 126 Twitter Accounts of Candidates for Governor, House, and Senate in 63 close races.
- General Election Campaign Time Period: September 1 – October 31, 2018.
- Exploratory Metrics:
  - 1) Growth Rate in Account Followers.
  - 2) “Total Engagement” = Account Mentions + Post Retweets + Addressed “Talk-Back” Posts.
  - 3) (end point) Engagement/Follower Ratios.

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON
UNIVERSITY

WASHINGTON, DC

GRADUATE SCHOOL OF POLITICAL MANAGEMENT

LARGEST FOLLOWER GROWTH RATE DISPARITIES (winners underlined)

1. FL GOV: Ron DeSantis 389% - Andrew Gillum 23% 356
2. IA 03: Cindy Axne 337% - Rep. David Young 5% 332
3. MS SEN: Mike Espy 279% - Sen. Cindy Hyde Smith 19% 260
4. NC 09: Marc Harris 191% - Dan McCready 17% 174
5. NJ 03: Tom MacArthur 133% - Andy Kim 14% 119
6. FL 15: Kristen Carlson 107% - Ross Spano 4% 103
7. MN 01: Jim Hagedorn 130% - Daniel Feehan 37% 97
8. NV SEN: Jacky Rosen 75% - Dean Heller 12% 63

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON
UNIVERSITY
WASHINGTON, DC

GRADUATE SCHOOL OF POLITICAL MANAGEMENT

POP QUIZ

One candidate among the 126 examined actually lost Twitter followers:

September 1, 2018: 4,622

October 31, 2018: 4,591

I bet you can guess who it was....

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON
UNIVERSITY

WASHINGTON, DC

GRADUATE SCHOOL OF POLITICAL MANAGEMENT

Yes, Steve King (R-IA)!

He was one of four incumbent candidates who basically did not use a campaign Twitter Account in September and October....and the only one so far who won re-election.

The others: Karen Handel (GA 06), Steve Knight (CA 25), and Rob Woodall (GA 07).

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON
UNIVERSITY
WASHINGTON, DC

GRADUATE SCHOOL OF POLITICAL MANAGEMENT

LARGEST SHARE OF VOICE (total engagement) DISPARITIES

T-1	CA 25: Katie Hill – Rep. Steve Knight	99
T-1	GA 06: Lucy McBath – Rep. Karen Handel	99
T-1	GA 07: Carolyn Bourdeaux – Rep. Rob Woodall	99
T-1	IA 04: J.B. Scholten – Rep. Steve King	99

OK, but what about candidates who used Twitter and got poor reception/weak echoes?

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON
UNIVERSITY
WASHINGTON, DC

GRADUATE SCHOOL OF POLITICAL MANAGEMENT

LARGEST SHARE OF VOICE (total engagement) DISPARITIES

2. NY 27: Nate McMurray – Rep. Chris Collins	92	(96% - 4%)
3. OK 05: Kendra Horn – Rep. Steve Russell	86	(93% - 7%)
4. IL 14: Lauren Underwood – Rep. Randy Hultgren	82	(91% - 9%)
5. TX 23: Gina Ortiz Jones – Rep. Will Hurd	80	(90% - 10%)
6. TX 32: Colin Allred – Rep. Pete Sessions	76	(88% - 12%)
7. MI 08: Elissa Slotkin – Rep. Mike Bishop	74	(87% - 13%)
8. NC 13: Kathy Manning – Rep. Ted Budd	70	(85% - 15%)

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON
UNIVERSITY

WASHINGTON, DC

GRADUATE SCHOOL OF POLITICAL MANAGEMENT

LARGEST ENGAGEMENT/(end point) FOLLOWER RATIOS

1.	MN 01	Jim Hagedorn	24.6	(Daniel Feehan 6.0)
2.	GA GOV	Brian Kemp	20.6	(Stacey Abrams 4.8)
3.	AZ SEN	Martha McSally	16.0	( Kyrsten Sinema 6.9)
4.	MT SEN	Matt Rosendale	15.2	(Sen. Jon Tester 5.8)
5.	IN SEN	Mike Braun	14.1	(Sen. Joe Donnelly 2.3)
6.	TN SEN	Phil Bredesen	13.9	( Marsha Blackburn 9.6)
7.	NV SEN	Jacky Rosen	12.2	(Sen. Dean Heller 5.9)
8.	TX SEN	Beto O'Rourke	11.8 (5M!)	( Sen. Ted Cruz 1.2) (4M!)

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON
UNIVERSITY

WASHINGTON, DC

GRADUATE SCHOOL OF POLITICAL MANAGEMENT

Preliminary Findings

There does seem to be a connection between dense Twitter engagement and winning. But there are many other variables to consider. Next steps for our research:

- Interviews with digital strategists on selected campaign cases.
- Model-building with these & other Twitter metrics, (small donor) funds raised.
- Comparative keyword analysis (what did the tweets actually say?).

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON
UNIVERSITY

WASHINGTON, DC

GRADUATE SCHOOL OF POLITICAL MANAGEMENT

Thank you for your feedback and support!

Michael

corn@gwu.edu