Barack Obama 🇺🇸 @BarackObama - Apr 6
As she often does, @SenWarren provides a cogent summary of how federal policymakers should be thinking about the pandemic in the coming months.

Elizabeth Warren has a plan for this, too
"When you have a plan and people can see it, they can start making their plans," Warren says.

For months, I called on President Trump to step up and take the action necessary to combat COVID-19.

But week after week, he downplayed the threat it posed, misled the American people, and failed to act.

Take a look:

The former head of the CDC told the New York Times up to 80 percent of the deaths in New York could have been averted if Andrew Cuomo and Bill de Blasio reacted sooner to COVID-19. Over 8,000 are now dead. Liberals cling to the fantasy it's all Trump’s fault.

Bernie Sanders ended his campaign for president and said “our movement has won the ideological struggle.”

Watch him slam Republicans for opposing COVID-19 unemployment benefits and the emergency relief package.
Ron DeSantis is considering reopening Florida schools, because he doesn't believe Covid-19 kills anyone under 25. This is of course false. It also means DeSantis doesn't value the lives of teachers, custodians, librarians, parents, and grandparents.
With 16,000 Americans dead from Covid-19, the White House says it will not allow Dr. Anthony Fauci, Dr. Deborah Birx or other government health officials to appear on CNN if the network refuses to televise all of Trump's daily misinformation briefings.

White House reverses position after blocking health officials from appearing on CNN... Vice President Mike Pence's office reversed course on Thursday afternoon, after declining for days to allow the nation's top health officials to appear on nationwide television...
Gov. Gavin Newsom announces that California is loaning 500 state-owned ventilators to the Strategic National Stockpile to help New York & other COVID-19 hotspots.
