BASIC INFORMATION AND RESOURCES

Instructor
David Skillman
Managing Director
Arnold & Porter Kaye Scholer LLP

David Skillman is an attorney and Managing Director at Arnold & Porter Kaye Scholer LLP, where he represents clients across tax, trade, and infrastructure matters.

He served for more than a decade as Deputy Chief of Staff and Counsel to Congressman Earl Blumenauer, Chairman of the Trade Subcommittee of the Committee on Ways and Means. Mr. Skillman led Chairman Blumenauer’s negotiations for the House Democrats’ Trade Working Group, as it sought changes necessary for Congressional approval of the United States-Mexico-Canada Agreement. He also authored portions of the Trade Facilitation and Trade Enforcement Act of 2015 and played a key role in the enactment of the Bipartisan Congressional Trade Priorities and Accountability Act of 2015.

In addition, Mr. Skillman developed and enacted legislation supporting renewable energy incentives, including extensions of the production tax credit, the investment tax credit, and the creation of the investment tax credit for distributed wind energy and led Congressman Blumenauer's negotiations on the Conference Committee of the Moving Ahead for Progress in the 21st Century Act, a reauthorization of the federal surface transportation programs. Finally, Mr. Skillman supervised the creation and expansion of the Congressional Cannabis Caucus and Cannabis Working Group. Prior to law school, he was a Coro Fellow for Civic Affairs at Carnegie Mellon University.

Communication
Email is the best way to reach me and I’ll try to get back to you that day. I’m available to meet with students after class and by appointment. Please call/text only for immediate concerns (if you must miss class due to illness, for example). Texting is generally better than calling. If a longer discussion will be necessary, please e-mail to set up a time to talk.
Blackboard Site
A Blackboard course site has been set up for this course, which you’ll have access to one week before the course starts.

Academic Integrity
All members of the university community are expected to exhibit honesty and competence in their academic work. Students have a special responsibility to acquaint themselves with, and make use of, all proper procedures for doing research, writing papers, and taking exams. Members of the community will be presumed to be familiar with the proper academic procedures and will be held responsible for applying them. Deliberate failure to act in accordance with such procedures will be considered academic dishonesty. Academic dishonesty is defined as “cheating of any kind, including misrepresenting one’s own work, taking credit for the work of others without crediting them and without appropriate authorization, and the fabrication of information.” Acts of academic dishonesty are a legal, moral, and intellectual offense against the community and will be prosecuted through the proper university channels. The University Code of Academic Integrity can be found at http://studentconduct.gwu.edu/code-academic-integrity.

University Policy on Observance of Religious Holidays
- Students should notify faculty during the first week of the semester of their intention to be absent from class on their day(s) of religious observance.
- Faculty should extend to these students the courtesy of absence without penalty on such occasions, including permission to make up examinations.
- Faculty who intend to observe a religious holiday should arrange at the beginning of the semester to reschedule missed classes or to make other provisions for their course-related activities.

Support for Students with Disabilities
GW’s Disability Support Services (DSS) provides and coordinates accommodations and other services for students with a wide variety of disabilities, as well as those temporarily disabled by injury or illness. Accommodations are available through DSS to facilitate academic access for students with disabilities. Please notify your instructor if you require accommodations. Additional information is available at http://disabilitysupport.gwu.edu/.

In the Event of an Emergency or Crisis during Class
If we experience some an emergency during class time, we will try to stay at this location until we hear that we can move about safely. If we must leave, we will meet at the Dunkin Donuts (on the lower level of Union Station) to account for everyone and to make certain that everyone is safe. Please refer to Campus Advisories for the latest information on the University’s operating status: http://www.campusadvisories.gwu.edu/.

Attendance Policy
You are expected to attend all of the classes. If you are unable to attend, please let me know prior to class via email (David.Skillman@arnoldporter.com).

Out-of-Class/ Independent Learning Expectation
Over the course of the semester, students will spend at least 2 hours (100 minutes) per week in class. Required reading for the class meetings and written response papers or projects are expected to take up, on average, 7 hours (350 minutes) per week. Over the course of the semester, students will spend 25 hours in instructional time and 87.5 hours preparing for class.
Course Evaluation
At the end of the semester, students will be given the opportunity to evaluate the course through GW’s online course evaluation system. It is very important that you take the time to complete an evaluation. Students are also encouraged to provide feedback throughout the course of the semester by contacting any/all of the following:

Course Description and Overview
What is public policy? What is the role of politics in setting the government’s policy agenda? How does the political situation in Washington affect the issues our government acts on, and the policy choices our government makes? This course focuses on these questions. Policy choices are POLITICAL decisions. What that means, and how it affects policy outcomes, is our subject.

Course Learning Objectives
The course has three learning objectives; by the end of the course, students will:

- Be familiar with public policy theories and how they aid in understanding modern political debates
- Recognize the key players (both inside and outside of government) who participate in the US national public policy-making system, what roles they play, and how they take part in decision-making
- Examine their roles/prospective roles in the public policy system and understand how to perform those roles more effectively

Legislative Affairs Program Objectives
Upon completion of the Master’s degree in Legislative Affairs, students will:

1. Gain both theoretical and practical knowledge related to the U.S. Congress, general issues in the legislative arena, and how to effectively advance legislation;
2. Hone their oral and written communication skills in both theoretical and technical aspects of legislative affairs;
3. Be able to conduct cutting-edge research and engage in effective problem solving by learning critical thinking skills; and
4. Learn how to work effectively with others, the value of collaborative work, and will understand ethical issues involved in the legislative arena.

Graduate School Expectations
Students enrolled in a graduate program should take their academic responsibilities seriously and be prepared to meet the following expectations:

1. Use effective time management skills so as to complete and submit their assignments on their required due dates and times.
2. Have attained a mastery of written communication skills including proper sentence structure, grammar, spelling, and word usage.
3. Understand how to properly format in-text citations and references for resources and information integrated into their written assignments.
