What if we were to learn that Trump suppressed scary information re COVID-19 (and the needed federal response) in January to postpone the economic turndown until it could no longer endanger his Senate acquittal? Retweet if you wouldn't be surprised by his making that tradeoff.

I yield to no one in admiration of Dr. Fauci. But this comment from January 21 should be kept in mind by those accusing anyone in the U.S. of failing to act in time against Covid 19. Watch it all the way through:

In January, while Donald Trump was downplaying COVID-19, I wrote an op-ed calling for immediate action to combat the growing threat.

In it, I also said Trump was the worst possible leader to deal with a public health crisis.

I stand by that statement.

We deserve to know how the Trump administration is making decisions about where to send precious resources to combat COVID-19.

Last week, I sent a letter to Vice President Mike Pence, FEMA Administrator Peter Gaynor, and HHS Secretary Alex Azar demanding answers on this.

I will say this: the moderate argument against Bernie Sanders — that people are not interested in massive, structural change but incremental change — has fallen away. Covid-19 has insured that we will experience massive, structural change whether we want it or not.

Governor Cuomo says 332 COVID-19 deaths in the last 24 hours in New York, a big leap. That means last Friday, a New Yorker was dying every ten minutes. Yesterday, it was every six minutes. Today, it's down to every four minutes. Every. Four. Minutes.

Today, Governor DeWine announced that all schools in Ohio will remain closed through May 1, 2020, in response to the spread of COVID-19. As adjustments and additional guidance become available, we will continue to share what that means to the SWCSD community. #InThisTogetherOhio
