Monitoring the Conversation About the Presidential Campaigns

The PEORIA Project: Listening to Public Echoes of Rhetoric in America

November 18 – 24, 2019: The week in which Adam Schiff landed atop the Trump retweet list with a lofty rhetorical question about Constitution vs. party allegiances.

We heard that Donald Trump only cares about the big stuff that helps him personally.

The question now is — what do we care about? The Constitution? Our oath of office?

Or merely our party.

In the words of Elijah Cummings:

We are better than that.

You don't believe in the Constitution OR the Truth, Adam. The founding fathers didn't say to impeach a President because you don't like him, you can't beat him, or because people think he "might" have done something they disagree with.

You and the Democrats are liars and frauds!

The narrative that "Trump is being impeached because people don't like him" is definitely smelling like borscht.

In case you didn't hear,

Devin Nunes found a loophole in the House rules that will allow Republicans to hold a separate hearing and call witnesses.

It's time to subpoena:

—Joe Biden

—Hunter Biden

—Barack Obama

—The "Whistleblower"

—And Adam Schiff himself

I don't understand the lying. If it was the best place for her son at the time, why not just say it, and say why it was the best option? Is she so desperate to be loved that she can't admit being a good mom? So sad.

The reason Democrats have to lie about sending their kids to private schools is because they public ally oppose parents having the choice to send their kids to charter schools. One more hypocrisy.

Nunes said that keeping relevant info from Sondland before he testified is "obstruction of justice" ... after Sondland already testified that the Trump State Department kept relevant notes from him.

So Nunes just cited the first article of impeachment against Pompeo.
