BASIC INFORMATION AND RESOURCES

Instructors
Matt Dallek, Ph.D
Mary Crannell

Guest sessions led by Professors Dr. Lara Brown, Honorable Mark Kennedy and Dr. David Rehr

Contact Information
Dallek (202) 302-1794
Email Address: mdallek@gwu.edu

Crannell (703) 362-3784
Email Address: mary.crannell@ideasciences.com

Communication
The best way to connect with either of us is via email. You can expect a response within 24 hours, but often within a matter of minutes, depending on schedules. You can also make an appointment before/after class.

Blackboard Site
A Blackboard course site has been set up for this course. Each student is expected to check the site throughout the semester, as Blackboard will be the primary venue for outside classroom communications between the instructors and the students. Students can access the course site at https://blackboard.gwu.edu. Support for Blackboard is available at 202-994-4948 or helpdesk.gwu.edu.

Academic Integrity
All members of the university community are expected to exhibit honesty and competence in their academic work. Students have a special responsibility to acquaint themselves with, and make use of, all proper procedures for doing research, writing papers, and taking exams. Members of the community will be presumed to be familiar with the proper academic procedures and will be held responsible for applying them. Deliberate failure to act in accordance with such procedures will be considered academic dishonesty. Academic dishonesty is defined as “cheating of any kind, including misrepresenting one’s own work, taking credit for the work of others without crediting them and without appropriate authorization, and the fabrication of information.” Acts of academic dishonesty are a legal, moral, and intellectual offense against the community and will be prosecuted through the proper university channels. The University Code of Academic Integrity can be found at http://studentconduct.gwu.edu/code-academic-integrity.

Support for Students with Disabilities
GW’s Disability Support Services (DSS) provides and coordinates accommodations and other services for students with a wide variety of disabilities, as well as those temporarily disabled by injury or illness. Accommodations are available through DSS to facilitate academic access for students with disabilities. Please notify your instructor if you require accommodations. Additional information is available at www.gwu.edu/~dss.

In the Event of an Emergency or Crisis during Class
If we experience some an emergency during class time, we will try to stay at this location until we hear that we can move about safely. If we have to leave here, we will meet at the basement of the Marvin Center in order to account for everyone and to make certain that everyone is safe. Please refer to Campus Advisories for the latest information on the University’s operating status: http://www.campusadvisories.gwu.edu/.

Attendance Policy
Attendance is mandatory for this class. Any individual unable attend class should email Mary Crannell prior to the beginning of that class. Repeated absences will be considered in your final grade.

Course Evaluation
At the end of the semester, students will be given the opportunity to evaluate the course through GW’s online course evaluation system. It is very important that you take the time to complete an evaluation. Students are also encouraged to provide feedback throughout the course of the semester by contacting any/all of the following:

THE COURSE

Political Management Program Objectives
1. Assess a political environment, develop a strategy to achieve specified goals within that environment, and act to carry out that strategy through a campaign.
2. Draw upon a repertoire of effective campaign communication skills.
3. Collect, evaluate, and incorporate empirical evidence to shape and optimize a campaign.
4. Find, engage, and motivate the right people – leaders, professional colleagues, and citizens – to join and contribute to a campaign.
5. Address the recurring dilemmas of political life in a manner that upholds ethical standards as they practice the profession.

Course Description and Overview
This course develops the professional capacity to address the recurring dilemmas of political life in a manner that upholds ethical standards and takes advantage of opportunities for leadership. It satisfies either the ethics or leadership core course requirement for the Master’s Degree in the Political Management Program.

Course Learning Objectives

1. Formulate a checklist-style process to help you make the best decisions in a tough political, diverse situation.
2. See political controversies from 360 degrees – that is, understand the vantage points of others, especially intense opponents and people with different cultural backgrounds than your own.
3. Make Democracy Work by being able to move from agitation to action, without violating standards of conduct or your own core principles.
4. Field criticism of your political actions, including personal attacks, while remaining true to your purposes and obligations.
5. Get political things done in a more effective and more efficient manner.
6. Speak to political audiences in a persuasive manner.

Course Requirements

Students are expected to participate in class discussion, complete assignments on time and within guidelines, and finish assigned readings before class when due.

September 23
Week 5 (Dallek)

Topic and Content Covered:
Pew’s recent survey of political typology has a self-assessment tool that puts Americans into one of eight categories. Please take this survey and identify your own political typology.

http://www.people-press.org/quiz/political-typology/

For more on this survey, see:

Come to class prepared to discuss the following question: What is the most challenging leadership dilemma you or somebody in your organization has faced, and how was that dilemma successfully resolved? Alternatively, you can use a hypothetical case in which you or a member of your organization must confront a vexing leadership dilemma. Explain what the dilemma is and what steps you or your colleague will take to overcome it.

Learning Objective(s) Addressed:

Identify your own political type based on the Pew Survey, and apply your type to a workplace dilemma and how you plan to overcome it.

Assignment(s) Due Today: Understanding Your Authentic Leadership. Email to Professor Crannell by 7 pm.

September 30
Week 6 (Kennedy)

Seeing and Speaking 360° (Part I): Bridging Ideological Gaps; Public Speaking Tips.

Seeing and Speaking 360°
  Key fault lines in American public opinion
  Legitimate motivations of both sides of top issues
  The need to see both sides and speak to both sides in order to effectively advance your side
  Key economic fault lines:
    • Economic Driver: Hayek / Friedman markets focus vs. Keynes government focus
  Key foreign policy fault lines American “Exceptionalism” vs. one of many in a Multilateral world
• America must at times act with a coalition of the willing vs. US should never act unless authorized by the UN Security Council

Legislative Roles - The different roles played by legislators
- Legislative insider
- Party insider
- Ombudsman
- Statesman
- Outsider

Learning Objective(s) Addressed:

Understanding and begin assessing issues and circumstances using a 360 approach

Familiarizing you with how others come to their specific understanding of issues and the world around them. The need to See and Speak 360°, appealing to the legitimate motivations of both sides of ideological divide in order advance your proposals. This does not mean you need to be advocating moderate positions. It means you need to be able to sell whatever your position happens to be from the vantage point of multiple constituencies.

Recognize the key Hayek vs. Keynes (Bottoms Up vs. Top Down) and Roosevelt vs. Wilson (America Leads vs. Need UN Approval) divisions as two key contrasts impacting public debate in not only America, but around the world.

Reading Due Today:

Speech excerpts for in-class analysis.

Assignment(s) Due Today. In-class. Review Speech Excerpts (assigned readings) and identify where speaker addressed channeled Hayek, Keynes, Roosevelt, Wilson and how they could have made a more convincing argument by speaking in more of a 360° voice. Each group participant delivers a line from speech either highlighted channeling of Hayek, Keynes, Roosevelt, Wilson; or a line that would have made the speak more 360° (60 seconds maximum).
In-class. Assign for Role Play for next class and have brief discussion of topic for Congressional Role Play exercise

October 7
Week 7 (Kennedy)

Topic and Content Covered:

Seeing 360° (Part II): Understanding Alternative Political Leadership Roles; Getting Past Institutional Gridlock

Alternative legislative roles

Understanding factors causing institutional gridlock

How mix of legislator roles contribute to and help overcome gridlock and what approaches may exist to overcoming institutional gridlock

Learning Objective(s) Addressed:

Different legislators adapt different legislative roles depending on their personal priorities and objectives

Reaching consensus for action requires knowing and appealing to each role within your targeted coalition

Obstacles to achieving consensus have become more formidable in recent decades

Moving from agitation to action requires seeking common ground

Reading Due Today:

Kennedy, Mark, Chapter, “Persuasion a Lost Art,” Reilly Center at LSU (to be provided).

Assignment(s) Due Today: Each student will prepare and deliver a timed 90-second mock floor speech as the person they were assigned to role-play on the current issue identified in the prior class from those discussed in the reading “Defining Your Role in Congress”). This speech will be critiqued in class, but not graded.
